

TROY HIGH SCHOOL WARRIOR WEEKLY

August 7, 2020

Dear Troy Family,

This is not going to be a normal Warrior Weekly, as we have not yet officially started school. Of course, as all of us are aware we will be beginning the 2020-21 school year in Distance Learning. While this is not how we had hoped to begin the year, it is what is best for the health and safety of all our community. Despite scientific evidence that seems to indicate school age children and young adults are less likely to contract COVID-19, the science does indicate they can pass it along even if they are asymptomatic to others including bringing it back home to their own families and extended family. We don't want anyone in our Troy Family or larger community to get this disease, thus the abundance of caution as we move forward with the 2020-21 school year.

On Friday or by Monday afternoon, students will receive invitations from their teachers to join their Google Classrooms for each of their classes. While we are on Distance Learning this is how students will attend their classes until students are ready to come back on the school site for in-person classroom instruction. Please follow this link at to our school website for more information. <https://www.fjuhsd.org/domain/1424> Here you will find four tabs with four video tutorials to help you with instructions on what you need to know to begin your classes on Tuesday.

I hope everyone has had the opportunity to rest, relax, and regain some normalcy this summer. We will get back to our normal routines someday, but we are not there yet. It is amazing how much we tend to take for granted, only to realize how good we had it afterwards. This is human nature, and when this pandemic is all over, I hope we have changed for the better. I have faith that as we are going through these difficult times together, it will make all of us better humans, and ultimately we will have a better world for everyone.

Rest up this weekend, as we begin school on Tuesday, August 11th! Zero period begins at 7:01am and 1st period begins at 8:00am!
