Dear Parent/Guardian,

Fullerton Joint Union High School District recognizes the importance of a welcoming, supportive school campus, positive school culture, and overall wellness of students and staff. When students feel connected, welcome, accepted, and engaged, academics and personal wellness increase dramatically. For these reasons and in line with our goal of supporting the success and wellness of all students, FJUHS D has partnered with Panorama Education to collect stakeholder feedback through surveys utilizing research-based topics and questions.

During the week of December 5, 2022, our students will have the opportunity to participate in the first of two climate and wellness surveys of the year. The student survey will be anonymous and will provide us with feedback on student wellness across school sites, grade levels, gender, and more. To preview the survey, please click HERE. In the Spring, we plan to include parent, staff, and teacher surveys as well to collect a more comprehensive set of data to review that will ultimately help to inform our decisions on student support programs as well as overall strengths and areas for growth.

Panorama is currently used in over 20,000 schools across all 50 states and is nationally recognized as a trusted partner in administering research-based school surveys. The topics and questions were selected to reflect the diversity of our schools and our communities. The responses will provide insights into how well students can navigate their school day feeling secure and supported, manage their emotions successfully, feel and show empathy for others, establish and maintain positive relationships, and more.

While we encourage all students to participate in this climate and wellness survey, we respect your right as a parent to have your student opt out. If you elect to opt your student out of participation, they should inform their teacher at the time of the administration of the survey that they will not be participating.
