CYNDI CHADWICK YOUNG WOMAN'S AWARD

The Cyndi Chadwick Young Woman's Award recognizes Buena Park High School Seniors for demonstrating leadership in their volunteer efforts. Volunteer projects can include mentoring, sexual harassment, sexual decision-making, teen parenting, careers, finances and any other projects that specifically benefit women, young women or girls.

This award is in honor of a former Buena Park High School student and Soroptimist International of Buena Park member, Cyndi Chadwick. Cyndi overcame personal obstacles and raised three daughters as a single mother. Cyndi's life was cut short by cancer however, she left a lasting legacy to the community and the women and girls whose lives were touched and improved by her lifelong commitment to volunteerism. In honor of Cyndi, the award is given to girls who have overcome obstacles and continue to help others while pursuing their dreams

This award is an opportunity to honor a girl who might not otherwise receive recognition. She may not be the best student, the best athlete, or the most popular girl in school, but she is committed to making the world a better place.

- Buena Park High Senior
