Dear FJUHSO Staff Members, Students, and Parents/Guardians:

Thank you to the many staff members who worked for a successful school year opening last week. As mentioned previously, Distance Learning has its challenges and we are anticipating a few more.

Neighboring Orange County school districts will begin their year with Distance Learning this week, which will put a burden on the community's bandwidth capacity. Students from across our area will be competing for a finite amount of bandwidth from the internet service providers. In addition, Southern California Edison may implement rolling power outages in response to the heat wave that we are experiencing.

If a FJUHSO student loses internet connection for any reason, they should communicate with their teacher and do the best they can to get logged back into class.

We appreciate everyone's perseverance and determination as we continue to improve the Distance Learning experience for students and staff.

Sincerely,

Scott Scambay, Ed.D.
Superintendent
