Dear FJUHS Staff Members, Students, and Parents/Guardians,

Temporary Return to Distance Learning Model

At the December 15, 2020 Board Meeting, the Board of Trustees gave direction to the Superintendent to return to a Distance Learning Model (On-Line) effective Monday, January 4, 2021 through Friday, January 15, 2021.

Monday, January 18, 2021 is Martin Luther King holiday. It is anticipated that the District will return to the Hybrid Schedule on Tuesday, January 19, 2021. This schedule, however, will be evaluated by the Board of Trustees at the January 12, 2021 Board Meeting.

Distance Learning Plan

- Although the District will return to distance learning beginning January 4, 2021, we will remain on the Hybrid Bell Schedule for Distance Learning. Bell schedules are attached to this letter.
- Classes will meet every day on-line according to the student's normal daily schedule.
- Google Classroom will serve as the main platform. Students will be provided instructions daily by their teacher of record.
- Teachers will be available on-line and actively accessible to students during each of their regularly scheduled instructional periods.
- Work and assignments will be completed electronically and teacher feedback and grades will continue.
- Staff members will check school email at least once per day and respond to parent communication within 24 hours. If you do not have wi-fi at home, please contact school administration and arrangements will be made.
- Teachers may work remotely or from school, if they choose to do so. Classified staff members will report to their current assignments, unless directed otherwise by their immediate supervisor.

Latest Guidance on Athletics

At the December 15, 2020 Board Meeting, the Board of Trustees gave direction to the Superintendent to continue outdoor-only activities and outdoor-only workouts.

The following information regarding the latest guidance on athletics was sent from the Orange County Department of Education (OCDE):

COVID-19 update: California officials issue latest guidance on athletics, including youth sports
(From Orange County Department of Education)

State health officials have released fresh guidance for recreational sports, including school-based athletics programs. The guidance issued Monday, Dec. 14 by the California Department of Public Health covers all organized youth sports, along with adult recreational leagues, but it explicitly does not apply to college athletics. The CDPH says team competitions can't start in California until Jan. 25 at the earliest, and that's assuming regional stay-at-home orders are lifted.

Youth and adult sports will now be classified by their level of contact — low, moderate or high — as well as whether they're played indoors or outdoors. Along with those considerations, permission to hold competitions or practices will depend on where a county falls on the state's four-tiered monitoring system.

The CDPH has a chart that breaks it down pretty well, but here are a few examples:

- Outdoor, low-contact sports such as golf, tennis, archery, and track and field can take place with precautions even when a county is in the most restrictive, purple tier. That designation currently applies to Orange County and nearly every other county in the state.
- Outdoor, moderate-contact sports like baseball and softball can resume when a county gets back to the less restrictive red tier, indicating substantial transmission.
- Because football is considered an outdoor, high-contact sport, it can't be played until a county is in the moderate range, otherwise known as the orange tier. The same goes for indoor, low-contact sports like gymnastics and badminton.
- Indoor sports with contact like basketball and wrestling will have to wait until a county demonstrates minimal transmission in the least restrictive yellow tier.

The CDPH defines low-contact as “sports where contact within six feet of other participants can be avoided.” Team sports with frequent or sustained close contact — and therefore a high probability of transmitting respiratory particles — are considered high-contact sports. It's worth noting that some sports, including cheerleading and basketball, can be classified differently depending on whether they're performed indoors or outside.

There are also new directives and recommendations related to face coverings, physical distancing, hygiene, equipment sanitation and indoor venues. The release of the new guidance ended a more than four-month wait for coaches and school administrators following the CDPH's last update on August 3rd.

I would like to thank you again for your continued patience and understanding as we work through these challenging times together. Best wishes for a restful holiday.

Sincerely,

Scott Scambray, Ed.D.
Superintendent
