

TROY HIGH SCHOOL WARRIOR WEEKLY

US Flag in Troy's North Gym.

November 10, 2022

Warriors,

It has been a slightly shorter, but still a great week at Troy as we move into the long holiday weekend. Today we have an early edition of the Warrior Weekly as we will be celebrating Veterans Day tomorrow and schools will be closed. Also tomorrow, our Troy and JROTC cadets from other FJUHSD schools will be participating in a Veterans Day ceremony at Hillcrest Park in Fullerton at 11:00am. This year's guest speaker for the ceremony will be Brigadier General David G. Smith of the California Army and Air National Guard.

I hope all of us will take some time over this long Veterans Day weekend to recognize and reflect upon the service and sacrifice of our men and women in uniform. Our current version of Veterans Day began in 1954 when our national remembrance of Armistice Day, recognizing the end of World War I in 1918, changed to a celebration and remembrance of all our veterans from all wars. It is impossible for our nation to repay the enormous debt of gratitude we owe our veterans from the Revolutionary War through today. We live our lives because others have given theirs. God bless our Veterans and the United States of America!

Last Friday night our Varsity Football Team played in our Round 1 CIF playoff game and traveled to MLK Jr. in Riverside. Our team got out to a great start, and scored on our first possession! We continued to play a strong first half, and we down by a few points at halftime. Despite fighting back and scoring again in the second half, on this night, we did not have enough of what it was going to take to win this game. We have a great team, and they played hard and kept fighting the entire game. Unfortunately, you only get one loss in football playoffs, and that is the end of the season. We can all be proud of our team, its athletes, coaches, and parents for another great season. Congratulations to all our Warriors!

As many of us have seen, our Troy Marching band and Guard are outstanding and exciting to watch every time they step onto a field or street. A couple weeks ago they performed in their last competitive field show at Loara High School's Field Tournament at Glover Stadium in Anaheim. Director, Mr. Jo-jo Castillo reported, “ The line up included a couple of groups in our division that had performed in the Rose Parade (Cypress HS and Kennedy HS) over the last few years. With that we did not place. The Band and Guard missed 3rd place by 4 tenths of a point! I will still take this as a win because although we did not place, we were not last and we still kept up with some of the best music programs in Southern California... We're not done! Our last scheduled parade is November 19th in Arcadia. Arcadia High School and the city of Arcadia hosts one, if not the most, prestigious Band Reviews in California. It is recognized nationally, as well. Last year we took 1st place music in our division. We hope to defend that and more. Come out and see us at these events, if you can. ”

But wait, there is more from our instrumental music leader, Director Mr. Jo-jo Castillo! “Troy has a senior who went to the All-National Honor Ensembles concert! Joseph Sung is our first chair cellist in both the Symphony of Troy and Apollo's Strings and he sat 3rd chair in the ANHE Symphony Orchestra. He is THIRD in the NATION! There were only two others from CA, Orange County High School of the Arts.” This is an awesome achievement, and clearly Joseph is performing in rare company. Congratulations Joseph Sung, and I think all of us look forward to hearing you play in the near future!

On Monday morning Cyber Security guru, Mr. Allen Stubblefield was formally recognized and congratulated by US Department of Education Acting Lead for STEM Education and Education Program Specialist in CTE, Mr. Albert Palacios for being named one of two teachers in the United States to receive the Presidential Cybersecurity Education award. During a 30 minute Zoom call, Mr. Stubblefield and a few students were able to convey what they knew and value about cybersecurity and how and why they are involved in the program at Troy. It was a wonderful conversation between Mr. Stubblefield, our students, and Mr. Palacios. Congratulations once again to Mr. Allen Stubblefield on his well-deserved award and recognition. Great job to all our students who also answered questions and spoke with Mr. Palacios. He was very impressed with our students, teachers, and our school, and stated there were things we are doing in cyber that he would like to see across the nation, as there is a great need for people to fill numerous cyber jobs across every sector of employment from government to aerospace. If there is a computer, you need cyber protection. We have a great cyber program with fantastic teachers, and students! Great job, and keep it going, Warriors!

Have a wonderful Thursday, and celebrate our veterans tomorrow on Veterans Day! I hope everyone, especially our vets have a restful and relaxing weekend. I think Luna has the right idea, but unfortunately I have a feeling that Christmas decorating is going to be in my future this weekend...I can only blame myself. ☺ It always looks nice when it is done and if it stays cold we are going to stay in the holiday season spirit. I know this for sure, it is going to be an epic snow weekend in Mammoth and also some of our local resorts, as the storm this week dumped feet, not just inches of snow!

Regardless of what you may do this weekend, I hope you are able to spend time with family and friends. Have a wonderful holiday weekend and I look forward to seeing everyone back here on Monday morning!
