December 18th (Friday) Pupil Free Day, Records Day for Teachers.

Before we left for Thanksgiving Break I wrote about the upswing in COVID-19 rates throughout the State, and now we know more about the next steps Governor Newsom is going to implement contingent upon available hospital beds in individual counties/regions, in the most restrictive Purple Tier. Our Superintendent, Dr. Scambray has sent updates regarding the pandemic in the past few days, and sent another last evening. Here is a copy of the most recent communication sent to our entire FJUHSD community.

Dear FJUHSD Staff Members, Students, and Parents/Guardians,

The following information was sent today from the Orange County Department of Education (OCDE):

California facing new stay-at-home order; no impact to schools already open for in-person instruction

Governor Gavin Newsom Thursday announced that regions of California where hospitals are in danger of exceeding capacity will be subject to a new stay-at-home order.

The new order will go into effect within 48 hours in regions with less than 15 percent availability in their intensive care units, or ICUs. Orange County, part of the Southern California region, could expect to face stay-at-home orders as soon as the end of this week, according to the Governor's office.

The new order does not apply to school districts and campuses that are already open for in-person learning, according to County Health Officer Dr. Clayton Chau. But it will close many nonessential businesses, such as in-person dining in restaurants, hair and nail salons.

"This is the most challenging moment since the beginning of this pandemic," said Newsom. "We are being called to do everything in our power to get through the next few weeks and months, and once we get through this, we will enjoy another side of this."

The order will last at least three weeks from the date it goes into effect in a given area. For additional information, please visit covid19.ca.gov

We will continue to keep you updated as information is received.

Sincerely,

Scott Scambray, Ed.D.

Each day, I come in early and then turn on select lights...our Main Office is not a bad way to start the day. ☺ Thank you to everyone, Maria, Desi, Shannon, Erin, Nancy, Iliana, Olivia, Stephanie, Chris, Michael, Cielito, Liana, Rudy, and anyone I may have missed that help create the holiday spirit in Main Office when we really, really, needed it. Will Ferrell's, Elf character is still a little disturbing when the lights come on, but I have been getting used to it. ☺ May all of us get a little boost as we move deeper into the holidays and finish the Fall Semester!

Please keep in mind that in many parts of the State, country, & world COVID-19 cases are trending significantly upwards. Please be careful to continue the practices that have been scientifically proven to work to reduce the spread of this virus. He did it again! Instrumental Music Director, Mr. Castillo reported that Troy Senior musical standout Ethan Huang has once more made it onto the All National Honor Ensembles, Concert Band Roster! Many of us have heard Ethan play the clarinet in our various ensembles here at Troy and while our opportunities this year to hear Ethan and the many of our talented performers have been greatly limited to online concerts, we know of the talent we have in our school and of which Ethan represents on a national scale. Congratulations to Ethan once again, and I hope we will be able to hear the performance of this National Honor Ensemble!

Luna is thinking..."is there a problem with me de-wiring these deer?" My answer, "get back inside and leave the deer alone." ☺

Yesterday, Troy Lead Counselor, Ms. Sarah Saleen forwarded on these outstanding resources that are now available to our families as we move forward through this month and into Winter Break. Mr. Carlos Alcantara, our District Mental Health Coordinator, shared this list of free online classes that are taking place during the month of December. All the courses are on Zoom and are open to all Troy parents and guardians.

Two weeks to go until Winter Break! Have a wonderful weekend and hopefully you can take advantage of some of the online shopping sales. I plan on continuing to watch and enjoy...the Hallmark Channel holiday movies that magically keep appearing on my T.V. I will also be doing a lot of yard work this weekend. ☺ After that I will be joining Luna on the sofa to rest and relax. I think she has the right idea. I am hopeful it will also be some nice BBQ weather and I plan to take advantage of that Southern California benefit as well. Again, enjoy the weekend, and I will see everyone back here on Monday either in person or online!
