

TROY HIGH SCHOOL WARRIOR WEEKLY

May 17, 2019

We are getting close to graduation for the Class of 2019! Last week of AP testing, except for some necessary make-ups, and IB testing is in full swing. Our testing has gone well, and students with which I have spoken have felt confident. Thank you to all of our counselors and AP/IB testing proctors! A couple of weeks of school left this year! Great job Warriors!

Week 1 of AP tests ready for UPS to pick up on Monday. I personally saw them loaded onto the UPS truck!

On Wednesday, Music Director, Mr. Jo-jo Castillo emailed out staff with this message. “The String Orchestra once again achieves greatness! Their stage performance was a Unanimous Superior. I felt that this was one of the best performances of this ensemble in the last couple of years. Go Warriors!” For all of those that saw the performance of our musicians last Friday night, this announcement probably came as no surprise. We have some wonderfully talented students and they are outstanding! Great Job Warriors!

In Boys’ Golf news, we always get updates from Coach Cowgill because almost nobody can actually watch the students play on the course. This update came yesterday from Coach Jerry Cowgill: “Two members of the Boys’ golf team battled the weather and the competition Thursday in the CIF Southern Section Finals to secure a spot in the Southern California Championships. Steady rain fell on senior Jetty Sivongsay and Sophomore Alan Pham as they warmed up and for the first 2 hours of the round, and then 20-30 MPH winds kicked up the last 2 hours, causing many of the golfers to score a lot higher than usual. This was true for Alan, as he failed to qualify despite a valiant effort, but Jetty pulled off par after par as the winds howled to shoot a 2 over par 73 and punched his ticket to next Thursday’s championship at historic Brookside Golf Course in Pasadena. Monday in the CIF Team competition the boys played well but fell 5 strokes short of moving on to the next round, ending their season.” Congratulations to Jetty Sivongsay as he moves on to the CIF Individual Championship and also our Boys’ Golf team, for a great season!

Last week I put this question in the Warrior Weekly for our entire Troy community. What other facility improvements would you like to see at Troy High School as we seek to have the best educational experience for all of our students? I did receive a few responses, but I think there are likely many more parents and students with opinions and suggestions. Please share your thoughts and please email me, as I will be compiling a list as we plan future projects. You can reach me at this email: wmynster@fjuhsd.org

Troy Cyber Teacher, Mr. Allen Stubblefield reported that Troy took 3rd place honors in the California Girls Go CyberStart competition, winning a $500.00 prize! The top Troy competitors were: Crystal Lee and Khuetu Doan both earning perfect scores! Fellow team members, Amber Wang, Amisha Kumar, Anna Fisher, Anusha Sapre, Ashmita Kumar, Eliana Lee, Jennifer Ho, Johanna Liang, Katrina Mizuo, Margely Villarruel, Natalie Kim, Noah Kim, Shirley Jia and Sneha Vivek also performed well and contributed to the 3rd place finish!

Fantastic job, Warriors!

Last Friday our California Champion Personal Finance Challenge team made it to Lincoln, Nebraska to compete in the National Championships despite flight delays and some inclement weather along the way. Troy AP Economic Teacher, Mr. David St. Clair reported our team did not place, but had a good time! I included one photo of the team at the University of Nebraska last week, but here are a few more. Great job to our team, comprised of David Lee, Dale Tran Dayne Tran, Maxwell Tsao, and Coach St. Clair, for representing California and Troy!

Don't miss the final choir concert of the year! Next Friday, May 24th at 7:00pm! Go out first to a nice dinner in downtown Fullerton, and then see the show. This will be a great show!

It is Friday, and not looking very much like springtime in So Cal. It looks like today will be partly cloudy and cool, with a chance of rain tomorrow night and on Sunday. I think next week we are looking at a few days of rain also... Luna is not happy about it. On the bright side, since the weather outside may not be great, it is perfect stay inside and sip hot coco, watch a movie, or perhaps get ahead on studying for Finals. ☺ Not a bad idea. Also, and most importantly, take some time to spend with friends and family. Rest and relax. Despite the rainy weather, enjoy the weekend, and I will see everyone back here on Monday morning!
